

London

This magnificent city owes its very existence to the majestic river, which flows through its centre. It is from this Royal River that you can still experience London's most famous sights and great heritage. From Westminster to Greenwich its riverbanks bear witness to the growth of the once most powerful trading nation on earth.

A living monument to the skills of those early merchant adventurers who brought back ivory, spices, silks and gold from the four corners of the world. And to the Kings and the spirit of the people that made Britain a leading maritime country.

Cruise with us through 2000 years of history and see the palaces and great houses built by Kings, merchants and famous men. Experience the London of Dickens, Shakespeare and Queen Elizabeth I.

Westminster

Westminster dates from the ninth century when Edward the Confessor first built a palace then an Abbey nearby which was completed in 1065. As well as The Abbey you can also visit the Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace, Trafalgar Square, Horse Guards and much more.

Greenwich

The Ancient borough of Greenwich, much of whose history is linked with The Thames has been the gateway to London for over a thousand years. Here you can visit the National Maritime Museum, Royal Observatory & Meridian Line, Cutty Sark Royal Naval College and Gipsy Moth IV.
